Courageous Leadership

Democracy, Pluralism and a Vibrant Jewish Community

At a time of unprecedented challenge for the Jewish community, we are looking to engage imaginative and courageous leaders—people who see opportunities and cultivate the relationships essential for turning good ideas into impactful initiatives that ignite Jewish life.

PROGRAM CONTENT

Some of the questions that the sessions will tackle include:

- What shared identities, beliefs, and heritages are represented in the Colorado Jewish community? How does this knowledge inform my work as a Jewish leader?
- What might it look like to hold more than one narrative around Israel and how can I share that possibility with my organization?
- How does tribalism represent itself in my institution and what can I do to establish healthy conversation and discourse?

A UNIQUE LEARNING EXPERIENCE

Fundamental to good leadership is building and strengthening relationships with colleagues and with the broader community that we serve. Join with other community leaders to address the critical questions and most enduring adaptive challenges that face us all at this once-in-a-generation moment. Wrestle with big Jewish questions. Bring Jewish values and ideas into the heart of communal Jewish leadership. Explore opportunities for partnership and collaboration around a shared vision for Jewish life. Experience the wisdom and knowledge of the Shalom Hartman Institute's world-class faculty.
